

8 Cozy Winter Bars in NYC

by Kaitlyn Rosati / in USA

While the weather has been oddly nice in New York these past few weeks, it is still technically winter, which means those frigid temperatures and icy windchills could creep back up on us at any second. For those who are looking to cozy up away from the cold and into a cocktail, these are my favorites bars in New York for those cozy winter nights.

3. Recreation Moxy

For a business during the day and party at night feel, look no further than Recreation, located within the Moxy NYC Downtown Hotel. Recreation is a communal co-working space by day and a buzzing bar by night, attracting plenty of the hard-workers in the Financial District. What I love most about Recreation is the retro games, from Ms. Pacman to Skee Ball to a Twister Board painted on the floor. Oh, and I can't forget about the half-course sized basketball court. Each cocktail on their menu is "paired" with a game; for example, the Marg Against Humanity pairs great with Cards Against Humanity! 90s kids will especially appreciate this spot due to the nostalgia, but with concoctions as good as the ones whipped up at Recreation, it's safe to say anyone will find this cozy spot particularly endearing.
